PROGRAM FOR OPENING DAY OF TERCENTENNIAL

Presence of President Roosevelt Will be Feature of the Occasion.

COMING TO ROADS ON MAYFLOWER

Salute of Three Hundred Guns by Norfolk Light Artillery Blues Will Usher in the Three Hundredth Anniversary of the Landing of the First Permanent English Settlers.

President Roosevelt is to be the feature of the opening day of the Jamestown Tercentennial Exposition, the official program of which was announced yesterday. The opening exercises which take place Friday April 26, will begin at sunrise by a salute of three hundred guns by the Norfolk Light Artillery Blues, commemorating the three hundredth anniversary of the first English settlement in America.

The President will reach the Exposition grounds at 11:30 o'clock after passing on the Mayflower through columns of saluting foreign and American warships in Hampton Roads. He will be escorted to the reviewing stand on Lee's parade, in the rear of the auditorium building.

The speech making feature of the program will begin at once, and in the open air should the weather permit. An invocation by the Rt. Rev. Alfred McGill Randolph, bishop of the Diocese of Southern Virginia, and a brief introductory address by Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Exposition company will precede the President's remarks. When the President has concluded, he will press a gold button and immediately the machinery of the great show will be in motion, a thousand flags will be unfurled on the Exposition buildings and a salute to the nation will be fired by the foreign and American ships in the roads and by the garrison at Fort Monroe.

At the conclusion of the salute the Exposition bands will play the "Star Spangled Banner," the troops will "present arms" and the concourse will stand with uncovered heads. The parade of soldiers and sailors of the United States under Major General Frederick Grant will be the next feature. The President will review the parade from a grand stand where also will be gathered the honored guests of the occasion including the diplomatic corps, the official committees of the Senate and House and the governors of states, twenty of whom have accepted invitations to be present.

The day will close with a reception to President Roosevelt between 5 and 6 o'clock.

SUMNER IN ROADS AFTER VERY STORMY VOYAGE

Weather Prevented Quarantine Officer From Boarding Vessel and She Remains Off Old Point.

After an unusually rough voyage up the coast, the United States army transport Sumner, Captain Scott, arrived at Old Point Comfort yesterday afternoon from Havana, Cuba. Owing to the heavy seas running in Hampton Roads, Dr. John Boggess, Federal quarantine officer at Old Point, was unable to board the transport yesterday, and she will not come up to this port until today.

The Sumner has a large number of passengers aboard, which she will land as soon as she reaches this port.

LAWSON ADRIFT AT SEA

Nothing Has Been Heard From Vessel Since Monday.

JABLE PARTED DURING STORM

Tug Paul Jones Made Unsuccessful

Effort to Recover Big Schooner and Then Was Compelled to Seek Shelter—Marine Notes.

Shipping men all along the Atlantic coast, and especially those at this port, are anxiously awaiting some word from America's peerless sailing vessel, the seven-masted schooner Thomas W. Lawson, which broke away from the big sea-going tug Paul Jones off the coast of South Carolina last Monday during a violent storm and which has not since been heard from. At the time of the accident the schooner was bound from Sabine Pass for Marcus Hook, Pa., with a cargo of oil.

After the schooner parted her towing hawser, the Paul Jones spent several hours searching for her and then put into Charleston, S. C., for shelter. The big tug put to sea again two days ago to look for her missing tow, but up to this time nothing has been heard from either vessel.

The Lawson was built at Boston, Mass., about eight years ago and up to a year ago was employed in the coastwise coal trade between this port and Boston. The big vessel was chartered about a year ago by the Standard Oil company for the oil trade between Sabine Pass and Marcus Hook, Pa., and was brought to the local shipyard, where she was converted into an oil carrier. The vessel made her first trip in the trade about six months ago, being towed up and down the coast by the tug Paul Jones, the largest tug on the Atlantic coast.

Local shipping men believe that the Lawson can take care of herself unless she springs a leak or takes a bad list as she did at Sabine Pass several weeks ago.

THEATRICAL

Manager G. B. A. Booker, of the Academy of Music, yesterday received a contract for the stock engagement of the New York Opera Company, which will play an engagement here beginning May 20. Along with the contract came a letter bringing the good news that Jess Dandy, who is financially interested in the company, will be here to play the leading comedy parts. Mr. Dandy has for the past four years been Hans Wagner in "The Prince of Pilsen" and has many enthusiastic admirers in the city.

The engagement will open with a production of "The Black Huzzah," a light opera for which substantial royalty will have to be paid. If the patronage justifies it, royalty productions will be given regularly and many of the most popular modern light operas and musical comedies will be seen by the theatregoers. As Messrs. Dandy and Shaw, managers of the company, are allied with Henry W. Savage, the greatest of all producers of musical plays, they will have an unlimited supply of scenery, costumes and accessories to draw from.

With a cast and chorus numbering 55 in all, the company will be here a week or so before the opening of rehearsals. All the principals and members of the chorus have been selected from the road companies now presenting "The Prince of Pilsen" and "Woodland," two of Mr. Savage's greatest successes in the way of musical comedy. This is sufficient guarantee that the company will be a good one.

The theatregoers, who for several seasons past have had to content themselves with cheap melodrama in the hands of 10-20-30 people during the stock season, are looking forward to a treat this year. It is understood that the prices will range from 15 to 75 cents.

"Our New Minister."

Although a very small audience saw "Our New Minister" when it was presented here early in the season, the unanimous verdict was "good" and it is very likely that the house will be well filled when this play returns to the Academy tomorrow night.

"Our New Minister" is a pastoral play by Denman Thompson and George W. Ryder and those who have seen it declare that it is as good as "The Old Homestead."

The sale of seats began yesterday morning at 9 o'clock. The prices are 25, 50 and 75 cents and $1.

Gorton's Minstrels.

Gorton's Minstrels, with a new show, will be the attraction at the Academy next Friday afternoon and night. The management promises some innovations in the staging of the production and the entire company is said to be of exceptional ability. The company is composed of some thirty-five people, among them being Jake Welby, Ralph Kinter, Charles Jacobs and Sam Lee, and a show with all the features of modern minstrelsy is promised.

A feature of the second part will be "The Enchanted Grotto," an equilibrium pantomime and musical sketch.

The sale of seats opens at the box office Wednesday morning. Prices for the matinee will be 25 and 50 cents and at night, 25, 50 and 75 cents and $1.

Every lady in Newport News who belongs to a religious, social, literary or other organization, should read the announcement of the great diamond ring contest, printed on page nine of The Daily Press this morning.

He—I say, how do you make that out?

She—Well, I hear it's a nightly occurrence for a sentry to be relieved of his watch.—Jester.
